Welcome Our Newest Board Members & Staff

Our Foundation is happy to announce that three new members have been added to the JCLF Board of Directors.

Kirby Edwards is a retired engineer from Lakewood. He and his wife Sharon are long-time supporters of JCLF and JCPL, and both periodically volunteer to help build medical clinics in Africa. "I realized literacy was important at an early age," Kirby says. "My mother was a teacher, and I witnessed the gratitude of the people she taught to read."

Lakewood resident Linda Fleming has been a part of our Foundation's volunteer corps for many years, helping us at our warehouse in Wheat Ridge and assisting at our semi-annual Whale of a Used Book Sales. A former nurse, faculty consultant, program director and management analyst, Linda is also a talented seamstress who sells doll clothing through an online business.

Kim Johnson is our new Trustee liaison from JCPL. She currently serves on the Jefferson County School District Strategic Planning Advisory Council, and she also served as a member of the Jeffco 2020 Vision Workgroup, which defined the next strategic plan vision for Jeffco Public Schools. An Arvada resident, Kim is the vice chair of JCPL Trustees, and she has a professional background in real estate management.

Susan Spring, New Office Coordinator

Susan's professional background includes office administration, technical writing and editing, and literacy education. She has worked as a volunteer for numerous non-profits in roles ranging from reading/literacy instruction to writing and editing to website development. A graduate of CU-Denver, Graduate School of Education, Susan also earned a master's degree in English Literature, Creative Writing Emphasis, from CU-Boulder. Welcome to JCLF, Susan!

Our New Volunteer & Friends Coordinator

JCLF is proud to introduce one of the newest members of our team – Kirstin Kraig, who has signed on as the Foundation's Volunteer & Friends Coordinator.

In this new position, Kirstin will be in charge of recruiting, training and scheduling JCLF volunteers, overseeing the Friends Gift & Book Shop at the Belmar Library and leading the Friends of the Library membership organization.

Kirstin has worked as an investment banker since graduating with an Economics degree from Claremont McKenna College in southern California. Her career has included mergers and acquisitions, as well as higher education and not-for-profit finance. She has worked with Jefferson County Public Library and the Foundation in a volunteer and consulting capacity for nearly a decade and has had the pleasure of coordinating two previous Whale of a Used Book Sales.

Kirstin has also served on the boards of Excel Academy Charter School and Foothills Animal Shelter Foundation. She moved to Colorado in 1996, and enjoys playing tennis with her husband and two teenage sons. Please join us in welcoming Kirstin!

Our Whale of a Used Book Sale Event Planner – Deborah Deal

Deborah Deal has been a tireless volunteer for our Foundation, and one who has served not only as a former JCLF Board member but also as the Trustee liaison to our Board, representing Jefferson County Public Library. For the past three years, Deb has spearheaded the Jeffco International Women's Day Luncheon held each March, and where JCLF has honored winners of the Girls in STEM competition with trophies and cash awards thanks to support from the Verizon Foundation.

Deb is an accredited public relations executive (APR) and the CEO of the IX Power Foundation based in Golden. She also directs marketing initiatives for IX Power Clean Water. Welcome, Deb!

OUR NEW LEGACY CHAPTER IS GROWING!

From the moment you see him, you know that Maurice Chaffee is going to be delightful to meet, with his twinkling eyes and big broad smile.

And you wouldn't be surprised at all to learn that for the past 10 years he's been cheerfully volunteering and supporting our Foundation and the Library. During that time, he and his wife Annette have assisted with set-up at JCLF's semi-annual Whale of a Used Book Sales, and Annette also helps out by volunteering each week at the Belmar Library.

Above all, we are delighted to announce that Maurice is one of the newest members of JCLF's Legacy Chapter – an exclusive group of individuals and couples who have generously chosen to place the Jefferson County Library Foundation in their estate plans.

When asked why he decided to do this, Maurice states simply, "Libraries have been good to me, providing so much information. It was a question of giving back."

Maurice goes on to explain that before the new Belmar Library was constructed, he often visited the former library that was farther to the east, near Alameda and Pierce Streets in Lakewood. That Library provided valuable business resources to help Maurice figure out his long-range financial planning. "I had to figure out my retirement and my investments," he remarks. "The Library helped me do this."

A retired geochemist with the U.S. Geological Survey, Maurice is a graduate of Colorado School of Mines in Golden and earned his M.S. and PhD from the University of Arizona.

We are grateful that Maurice has elected to become a member of JCLF's Legacy Chapter -- a way in which donors can provide support for our Jefferson County Public Library well into the future. For information on how you can include JCLF in your estate plans, call Jo Schantz at 303-403-5077 or send an email to jo.schantz@jeffcolibrary.org.

DID YOU KNOW THAT YOU CAN START AN ENDOWMENT TO SUPPORT THE LIBRARY?

Along with providing a bequest through your estate plans, our donors can also join one of JCLF's Giving Circles and start establishing an endowment that will benefit the Library in the years to come. Here's how it works:

- A donation of at least $5,000 (and up to $9,999) will signal you as a member of the Director's Circle
- A gift of $10,000 or more will place you as a member of the President's Circle

As you continue to contribute to your special fund, you will be eligible to establish a named endowment when you reach a total gift of $25,000.

Would you like more information? Please contact Jo Schantz at 303-403-5077 or jo.schantz@jeffcolibrary.org.

RAISE A READER CHUGGED RIGHT ALONG

JCLF was glad to help support JCPL's Raise A Reader event, held at the Colorado Railroad Museum in Golden on Saturday, August 10.

This year, the Raise A Reader program featured a free, day-long, literacy-focused event for children ages 0-5, and also provided resources and guidance to parents and caregivers.

Various stations were set up around the Museum grounds and activities were focused on reading, writing, talking, singing and playing – creative ways to help babies and preschoolers gain early literacy and pre-reading skills. As a plus, the 1,500 children and families who attended the event enjoyed train rides, face painting, a puppet theatre, food trucks, live music and more!

We are grateful to On Tap Credit Union for sponsoring our 2019 Raise A Reader event.

EDGEWATER'S FAMILY PLACE LIBRARY™

JCPL proudly opened the doors and welcomed more than two dozen guests to its Open House breakfast event on Saturday, July 27.

The occasion was a time to tour and celebrate Jefferson County's first Family Place Library™ located at the Edgewater Library.

What is a Family Place Library? According to familyplacelibraries.org, "Family Place builds on the knowledge that good health, early learning, parental involvement and supportive communities play a critical role in a young child's growth and development. The overall goal of Family Place Libraries is to develop a family-friendly environment by transforming libraries into community centers for literacy, early childhood development, parent education and engagement, family support and community information."

This library model caters to babies and small children and their families. Family Place Libraries are designed to create fun and welcoming environments where children and their caregivers can play, learn and grow together. In these specially designed areas, parents and children will find hands-on, interactive materials such as board and picture books, age-appropriate toys, puzzles, dramatic play items, blocks and drawing stations. This is the kind of library setting that invites little ones to explore, enjoy and learn!

You can visit the Family Place™ in the Edgewater Library located at 1800 Harlan St. Library hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Director's Notes

I always look forward to fall – a time when the leaves are changing, the air is crisper and I can expect a new "harvest" of many good books to read, audio books to listen to or DVDs to watch.

Since this year heralds the 50th anniversary of man's walk on the moon, it seems appropriate to choose No Dream Is Too High, by astronaut Buzz Aldrin, or A Man on the Moon: The Voyages of the Apollo Astronauts by Andrew Chaikin. New from the suspense genre, look for chillers such as The Nanny by Gilly MacMillan, or The Chestnut Man, a murder mystery by Søren Sveistrup.

If you're in the mood for classic movies on DVD, check out the popular 2017 story of The Lion King, or go back in time to The Terminator, that post-apocalyptic thriller from 2001. You can also take a trek down memory lane with the horror classic, The Shining, a precursor to this fall's film release of Doctor Sleep, where a now-adult Danny Torrance faces an all-new terror.

As you can guess, all these books and DVDs are available at Jefferson County Public Library's ten locations and the bookmobile.

If you are an avid bibliophile, you won't want to miss our fall Whale of a Used Book Sale where you can find thousands of books, CDs, DVDs, vinyl records and more. We'll be back at the Jeffco Fairgrounds on October 18-20, and our Friends Preview Night is scheduled for October 17. If you are not yet a Friend, or if your membership has lapsed, you can always sign up on Preview Night!

And please don't forget...we always need donations of good books, so I hope you'll also think of our Foundation when you want to donate quality items for our sales. We will be grateful for your contribution.

Thank you!

Fun en Français at our Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon

JCLF took a different spin on this year's Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon and marked it with a French accent!

From croissants to eclairs and from baked brie to Salade Niçoise, our French-themed buffet served more than 60 of our fabulous Foundation volunteers at the Goosetown Event Center in Golden on Friday, July 26. When we tossed in some musical entertainment by accordionist Alicia Baker, the celebration became truly magnifique!

"We are so grateful to our volunteers for everything they do for us. Some help at our warehouse, sorting books, others help at the Whale of a Used Book Sales, and still others serve on our Board of Directors," comments Jo Schantz, executive director of JCLF. "This is just a small way we can honor each one and let them know how much we appreciate their work on our behalf."

The Foundation also singled out key volunteers who were paid special tribute during a brief awards ceremony after the luncheon. These awards and honorees included:

- Volunteer Leadership Award – Tyrenny Hidy
- 2019 Volunteer of the Year – Tom and Donna Kelly
- The Elena Joyce Grissom Lifetime Achievement Award – Deborah Deal

"Our Foundation simply couldn't exist without the tremendous support of our volunteers," says Sally Reed, Board president of JCLF. "We rely on their help in so many ways, and it is a privilege to honor each one for their service and for their commitment to our cause – that of supporting Jefferson County Public Library."

After the luncheon, each attendee received a goody bag that included pens, candy, water bottles (courtesy of FirstBank) and sunglasses (donated by Pinkard Construction).

DON'T FORGET!

This year, Community First Foundation and FirstBank are presenting Colorado Gives Day on Tuesday, December 10, 2019. This annual statewide movement celebrates and increases philanthropy in Colorado through online giving. The $1 Million Incentive Fund created by these partners is one of the largest giving-day incentive funds in the country.

You can make a contribution to the Jefferson County Library Foundation by going to ColoradoGives.org. Also, you can schedule your gift ahead of time beginning November 1.

When you make your donation, you can choose your donation to be "In Honor" or "In Memory" of someone, send an eNote to the named person, or you can ask JCLF to send a physical card or letter to acknowledge your contribution.

EXPLORE JCPL'S NEW OUTDOOR ADVENTURE SPACE

The ribbon-cutting ceremony and celebration of the new Discover Together: Outdoor Adventure Space took place Saturday, July 20.

Professionally designed by Learning Landscapes, this unique space provides an outdoor, exploratory environment where children can engage in unstructured play.

Located outside the children's area on the east side of the Standley Lake Library building, the space features two separate play areas that include sensory and habitat gardens, benches and fairy stumps, as well as tools to spark children's imaginative play and learning, such as a willow dome and child-sized wheelbarrows, trowels and watering cans. The new area even boasts an "insect hotel" that gives bugs a place to live and allows our Library patrons a window into their tiny worlds. This last item was the result of an Eagle Scout project produced by 17-year-old William Webster, an Arvada resident.

Why is this new outdoor area important to young Library patrons? As research shows, unstructured play helps children develop skills in gross and fine motor skills, creativity and socialization. Offering these activities outside also encourages exercise and contributes to emotional and physical health.

"This new Outdoor Adventure Space extends the Library's commitment to help children be ready to read when they enter kindergarten and continue to support their learning as they grow," remarks Donna Walker, executive director of Jefferson County Public Library.

As an added bonus, youngsters can earn a special library explorer badge after completing outdoor activities and by taking a pledge to always be curious and exploring. This idea was inspired by the National Park's Junior Ranger Program.

Our heartfelt thanks go to the many donors and partners who have made the Outdoor Adventure Space a reality: Allison Brigham; Warren Roeske; MWH Funding; the City of Arvada; the City of Westminster; the Jefferson County Library Foundation; and Jefferson County Open Space. This new children's area is also dedicated in memory of Shirley M. Roeske.

DINE AND DONATE AT 240 UNION ON OCT. 23

Great food, good friends and a posh setting equal one terrific fundraiser! And that's what Dine and Donate is all about!

Whether you're hungry for lunch, happy hour or dinner, join us on Wednesday, October 23, at 240 Union restaurant for an event that will net the Jefferson County Library Foundation 25% of all food sales that day.

"What could be better than paying for a fabulous meal and knowing that a portion of those dollars will go back to JCLF? It's a winning combination," says Sally Reed, president of the JCLF Board of Directors. "We are grateful to Michael Coughlin, owner of 240 Union restaurant, for hosting this event to benefit our Foundation."

The restaurant is located at 240 Union Blvd., Lakewood, CO 80228. It opens for lunch at 11 a.m. and closes at 10 p.m. weekdays. For reservations, call 303.989.3562 or visit www.240union.com.

SUMMER READING WAS SUPER FUN!

How did you spend your summer? We know that more than 44,000 Jeffco residents spent the season reading as they participated in JCPL's annual Summer Reading challenge!

Local book lovers logged 42,398,725 minutes enjoying good reads throughout the eight-week program – from June 1 through July 31.

And not only did the event include reading great books, JCPL staff also created a whole line-up of events and activities to keep readers engaged in the program. Here are some examples:

- o Universe of Surprise with Magic Rob -- a magic show for school-age children
- o Astronaut-Ka-Doodle & Blast Off: Apollo Art! -- creative arts for the youngest patrons
- o Space Junk -- teaching children to get creative about dealing with waste
- o Denver Museum of Nature & Science: Invisible Forces -- physics-based program for children
- o Denver Museum of Nature & Science: Mission to Mars -- teamwork challenge for children
- o Rocket Blast -- rocketry for children
- o LibLab: Printing with Sun Paper & Alien Slime Lab -- hands-on fun for school-age children
- o Teen and Adult Celestial Henna -- hands-on program for those 13 and up
- o Space Pinatas -- hands-on fun for all ages
- o Cyanography -- Sun printing for all ages -- adults loved this!

This year's reading challenge was promoted in many ways – online, on air (thanks to a marketing partnership with Comcast), through the Library's new Connect magazine and through sign-up opportunities that were available at all Library locations and staffed by teen volunteers. Plus, we have to thank all the promotional efforts of JCPL employees who encouraged patrons to join in the challenge.

"There isn't one employee (of the Library) who didn't contribute to Summer Reading in one way or another, and for that, I am thankful," says Cindy Jaye, JCPL's program manager.

Our Foundation was pleased to provide ten $100 gift cards as prizes for Summer Reading participants, and we were happy to donate five $800 awards to the Jeffco schools that had the most student participation and read the most books. Here are those winning schools:

- Adams Elementary Preschool
- Glennon Heights Elementary School
- Bell Middle School
- Arvada High School
- Addenbrooke Classical Academy

We also want to thank this year's Summer Reading sponsors for their tremendous support: Lakeside Amusement Park; Elitch Gardens Theme & Water Park; Comcast; Melvin & Elaine Wolf Foundation; FirstBank; Genesee Mountain Foundation; and The Kerr Foundation.

WHALE (SALE) WATCHING – COMING IN OCTOBER!

Fishing around for good books at bargain prices? You'll find a whole sea of books at the Jefferson County Library Foundation's (JCLF) semi-annual Whale of a Used Book Sale.

This event will be held at the Jefferson County Fairgrounds from Friday, Oct. 18, through Sunday, Oct. 20. The sale, which has a 20+ year history in the community, offers more than 80,000 books, CDs, DVDs, vinyl records and many more items with prices starting at $0.50. Plus, admission is free!

"We're always so amazed and grateful for the turnout at each of these popular sales," says Jo Schantz, executive director of the Jefferson County Library Foundation. "Plus, our Whale of a Used Book Sales help the Foundation raise thousands of dollars annually, which in turn benefit the programs, events and activities of Jefferson County Public Library."

The used book sale launches on Thursday evening, Oct. 17, with a Friends-only Preview Night from 6 to 8 p.m., and where Friends of Jefferson County Public Library members are invited to shop the sale before it opens to the public. The following morning, Oct. 18,

Early Bird shoppers can get in ahead of the crowd from 8 – 9 a.m. for a fee of $10 per adult. At 9 a.m., the sale opens to the public, and there is no admission charge. The used book sale runs from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18 and 19. On Sunday, Oct. 20, the sale is open from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"These book sales are a great contribution to the Library and the community," said Donna Walker, executive director, Jefferson County Public Library. "They allow us to keep Library resources fresh, recycle books and materials responsibly, put books back in the hands of Jeffco residents, and receive Foundation support for Library programs. It's the best deal going."

Each year, this event enjoys tremendous support from local sponsors, including this year's Friends Community Partners: Westerra Credit Union, Bandimere Speedway, Pinkard Construction, Stevenson Toyota West and Etkin Johnson Real Estate Partners.

For more information about the Foundation and the fall Whale of a Used Book Sale, or if you would like to volunteer or become a Friend of the Library, visit jeffcolibraryfoundation.org.

What's a Whale Without a Name?

Last spring, JCLF held a contest – both online and at our Whale of a Used Book Sale – asking our patrons and book lovers to help us name our little blue whale. And the verdict came back loud and clear.

Moby is the whale's new moniker, and we are grateful to those who cast their ballots and gave our whale a very nautical and classic name. Thank you!

1000 BOOKS BEFORE KINDERGARTEN

Each year, JCLF is happy to support specialized Library programs under the umbrella of Early Childhood Literacy, and one of those programs is known as 1000 Books Before Kindergarten.

This popular, nationwide literacy program encourages parents, caregivers and guardians to introduce babies, toddlers and small children to the world of reading.

The program is simple. Parents or guardians choose a book or story to read to their child (they can read the same story multiple times – that counts, too!), they keep an account of the readings (by logging in the books or stories read on a hard copy sheet given to participants via the Library, or through an online portal), and soon each participating child is on his/her way to the 1,000 mark! The goal is to ensure that every child in Jefferson County – no matter their socio-economic status – is ready to read by the time they begin kindergarten.

JCPL began the 1000 Books Before Kindergarten model program in 2016 in three Jefferson County cities – Edgewater, Wheat Ridge and Lakewood. The Library targeted areas with predominantly low-income families, and where students were identified as falling short for overall literacy and school-readiness. Today, JCPL has expanded the program to all 10 branch libraries and the bookmobile.

At its beginning, 286 children (plus their parents or guardians) signed up for this initial project in the three start-up locations. As of July of this year, 5,788 young children and families have signed up for this program – more than 20 times the number of participants in 2016. Added to that number, 297 children have completed the program to date, and 512 youngsters are at the halfway (500 books) mark!

The program is also helping to encourage pre-reading skills at Head Start centers, where JCPL brings the program to disadvantaged children in day care.

"Our role is to get families excited about reading," remarks Head Start's Lead Family Support Specialist

The Clippinger Family at the Standley Lake Library.

Manda Faherty. "Anything that gives families a target or goal, it's well received. It's huge to have family engagement!"

To learn more about the program, visit jeffcolibrary.org/1000-books-before-kindergarten.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT: Why do you volunteer?

Why do you volunteer at JCLF? Here are some interesting responses . . .

Roseanne Beeler

recruited other volunteers to work here!

There are two reasons why I volunteer at JCLF. I love the Library and it's a good way to give back to the community. I also find it rewarding because the Foundation is able to generate dollars from the book sales. This is a fun group to work with, it's stress-free and I've even book sales are so much fun, plus we earn free books for our volunteer time.

I like volunteering [at JCLF] because it's not a huge time commitment and the hours are so flexible! I saw an ad for Foundation volunteers in the newspaper, and I was looking for a way to give back. I thought, "this looks interesting," so I volunteered. And the

Marcia Sadler

After I retired, I started volunteering at the Golden Library, but when that Library closed for a remodel in 2015, I volunteered at the Foundation's warehouse. After the Library reopened, I decided "I'll just stay here," because it's so pleasant and the hours are so flexible.

All three volunteers agreed on one big advantage they gain at the Foundation: plenty of exercise! According to Roseanne, "I don't have to lift weights" at the gym, and as Marcia points out, "I get my upper body exercise and I don't have to go to Curves!"

DO YOU KNOW WHAT WE SELL ON JEFFCO FRIENDS?

As you are probably aware, JCLF has its own online storefront called Jeffco Friends. We sell rare and collectible books, CDs and DVDs, and many of these items are unique! Did you know that we sold an autographed Flannery O'Connor book for $1,000? Or that we sold a book by artist Marc Chagall for $1,700? These are just two of the treasures we've discovered in some of our book donations.

Warehouse Coordinator Don DuBé is in charge of this money-making enterprise, and here is a list of some of his most recent sales, where they were sent and their selling price:

Extractive Metallurgy of Uranium – to Australia – $28.00

Western/Adventure books on CD – to Florida - $70.00

Scrubs, the complete collection on DVD – to Kentucky - $36.00

Works of Giuseppe Francesco – to Bronx, NY - $68.00

J.W. Waterhouse: The Modern Pre-Raphaelite – to New York - $79.00

If you have rare and unusual books to donate, please contact Don at 303-403-5076, or visit our website, jeffcolibraryfoundation.org, to learn more about our book donation program.
